Moore Says City Must Face Music

The city will soon have music in the air, that isn't there now. That's the word from Don Moore, president and general manager of Bay Broadcasting Corporation, owners of WPUP radio which is setting up operations in the Bay. Moore said that he hopes the station will be operating shortly after Feb. 1.

Moore and Bill Garrett, a Slidell, La. automobile dealer who is a co-owner of Bay Broadcasting, have been directing the venture since last summer when land was first cleared for the station's tower.

WPUP will operate from an assigned frequency of 1190 on the AM dial with a maximum output of 5000 watts of power, and is a clear channel station.

The station is located on five acres of land off of Blue Meadow Road and boasts a transmitter tower that is 197 feet above ground. Moore said Tuesday that the transmitter should provide good listening sound within a 75 mile radius of Bay St. Louis. Studio facilities and offices for the station are located in a house trailer on the property.

The station will broadcast from sunrise to sunset, Moore said, and will play a wide variety of music.

"I guess you could say we are a 'middle of the road station,'" he said, "but really I like to refer to us as an AOR station... that is... all over the road."

"We're not going to play strictly one type of music over another. We'll play some hits of the past, some big band sound, some Glen Campbell, Sinatra, the Carpenters and so forth."

Moore said that the station would probably employ five persons initially to do announcing, operate the control board and handle the business details.

The station will subscribe to the United Press International News Service and will gather weather news from this and the National Weather Service.

"We are going to be working very closely with the local civil defense agencies," Moore said, WPUP, he said, has been classified as a national emergency station which means that in the event of a local, state, or national emergency the station is authorized to remain on the air 24 hours broadcasting emergency news.

Moore said that the station would have an emergency generator in case of a power failure so that the station could continue operations, and would have a communications setup between the station and civil defense agencies and possibly city hall.

Terri Lynn Hensley, appeared to be dying from an overdose of drugs. Sheriff's deputies took the girl, who was living at 203 Clermont Harbor Dr. with Robert Gan Smith, 25, his 16-year-old brother and their grandmother, to Hancock General Hospital where she was given emergency treatment and released. According to an unofficial source the Hensley girl was released mid-afternoon Saturday but was brought back in a second time later in the day again suffering ill effects of the drug.

Special Agent Ronald Peterson said the girl admitted that she and the two young men had consumed a bottle of approximately 98 placidyl capsules (a form of barbiturate) and a quantity of beer.

On information supplied by the girl, county narcotics agents later confiscated another bottle of the capsules at the Clermont Harbor Rd. residence. Peterson said the medication had allegedly been stolen from a neighboring residence by one of the trio.

Robert Smith was booked at county jail for public drunk, contributing to the delinquency of a minor and using obscene language. His brother was charged with possession of a controlled substance and turned over to juvenile authorities.

Assault & Battery Charge Dropped

Terrence D. Ladner, 21, arrested Dec. 25 by Bay St. Louis police and charged with assault and battery with a deadly weapon with intent to kill was found not guilty in a Jan. 9 hearing before Bay Police Justice Joseph Benvenuti. A charge of disturbing the peace was also dropped. Ladner was accused of injuring Neal Marquar in a fight in a Bay-roller rink.

Webre Accepted As Port & Harbor Director

Approval of Wilson Webre as permanent director was given to a Port and Harbor Commission resolution Monday by Hancock County board of supervisors.

Supervisor H. "Bully" Zengarling seconded a motion by Oscar Peterson to ratify the resolution naming Webre to the position at an annual salary of $13,500. Supervisors A.A. "Dolph" Kellar and James Travirca concurred with Jerry Ladner abstaining from voting.

In another Port and Harbor matter, Ladner voted against payment of $1,500 for a color rendering of Stennis International Airfield stating that in his opinion the poor quality of the rendering did not warrant that price. The Port and Harbor resolution for payment was ratified by a four to one vote by the board.

All other Port and Harbor resolutions were accepted by the board and at the conclusion of the commission business, Dr. Levens, commission president, told the board that the choice of a director "was a very tough decision to make", as all of the applicants for the job were "excellent prospects" and many interviewed had made some good suggestions for handling the Port and Harbor development.

In an unrelated matter, a third request from Ladner to accept a bid for repair of White's Road in Pearlington failed to gain acceptance of the board. Ladner reiterated his statement at earlier meetings that he could accomplish the job for Crown Construction Co.'s bid price of $29,925 as well as repair a bridge at Heron Bay in Anole, although his revenue sharing fund balance stood at $28,368.

At first appearing to concur with the request, the board agreed to the proposal if Ladner would reject

Crown's bid and rebid the job, hopefully for a lesser price.

The matter remained at an impasse when Travirca's motion for rejection of the original bid and readvertisement of the job died for lack of a second. After a lengthy, repetitive discussion in which Ladner refused to readvertise, Travirca withdrew his motion and the matter was dropped.

Hancock county will have to pass a resolution adopting a coast wide traffic plan before coastal communities can be eligible for federal funding under the Federal Highway Act of 1973, supervisors were told by Ned Boudreaux, traffic consultant with the Gulf Regional Planning Commission.

Boudreaux showed the board a map of a recommended 1990 plan indicating modifications and development of major transportation arteries along the Gulf Coast and extending to points five miles inland. The map is part of a coast transportation study in progress by GRPC. Boudreaux said, and conforms to specifications demanded by the Federal Highway Comm. which has declared lack of such a plan will impede receipt of future federal grants to this area.

A request by two county residents for cancellation of 16th section land leases, presented by the county school board was granted by unanimous decision of the board. N. E. Beckendorf requested release of Section 16-9-15 and Jessie and Flora Mae Garcia asked for release of Sec. 16-6-14.

A motion by Travirca to construct a public pier at the foot of Ulman Ave. in Bay St. Louis under Governor's Emergency Council funding carried by a three to two vote. Zengarling abstained from voting and Kellar voted against the proposal, both supervisors objecting to the further expenditure of any GEC monies. Travirca's proposal was for the board to authorize architect Fred Wagner to draw plans and specifications for the pier at a cost not to exceed $30,000. The county has already spent some $250,000 of the original $675,000 GEC loan, Kellar said, and any further expenditures at this time would be unwise he felt. An interest payment due in August has been withheld by the county pending legislative decision on possible forgiveness of a portion of the disaster loan.

Annual bids for services to the county, opened and considered earlier, were accepted as follows:

For asphalt - Holcomb (bid prices on daily basis), Breland Constr. Co. (six months), Bond Paving Co. (30 days), all three accepted.

For lumber - Fernwood Co. of McComb, Miss., Central Lumber Enterprises bidding, both equal, both accepted.

For slag - only bid from Southern Stone and Slag of Ala. and Tenn., rejected.

For tires - Dees Tire Co., Gulfport, Dixie Road and Supply, Inc., both accepted.

For grader blades - American United, Miss. Road and Supply, Allied Equipment, all accepted.

For precast slabs - Choctaw Culvert Co., Consolidated Culvert, American United, all accepted.

For road signs - County Road Signs, Inc., Spilka Products, both accepted.

For pipe - Shaw Culvert and Supply, American United Products, Dixie Road and Supply, Faulkner, Inc., County Culvert and Supply, Choctaw Culvert Co., Pearl River Pipe, Consolidated Culvert Co. All held in abeyance pending validation of state bid-price list.

Judge Grant Faces Heavy Docket

The January term of the Hancock County Circuit Court opened Monday morning with Judge Leslie B. Grant presiding and quickly empaneled a grand jury before turning to a heavy civil and criminal docket. The term will last three weeks.

On the criminal calendar the court disposed of the murder charge against W. D. (Fats) Harris Tuesday morning after the state accepted a reduced plea of manslaughter from Harrison for the September 1973 slaying of his common law wife Ovie Mae Lewis. Harrison was sentenced to six years in the state penitentiary.

In a second hearing Alfred Thomas, Jr. entered a not guilty plea for the murder of Forrest Summers, a Pearlington grocery owner, who was killed Aug. 31, 1973. No trial date was set. Thomas has been held in Hancock County jail since last November after a grand jury returned an indictment against him last term.

The court set for call Friday the hearing of Michael Schwall charged with three counts of grand larceny, two counts of assault and battery with intent to kill, four counts of burglary and larceny, and one count each of attempted burglary, burglary of a dwelling, burglary and larceny of a dwelling and burglary.

Judge Grant also set for call Friday the arraignment of Barbara Holland, 16-year-old juvenile charged with armed robbery of the Travelrest Motel on Hwy. 90 last July 11, 1973. Three other defendants in the case are currently incarcerated in Pensacola, Fla.

The court dismissed three other criminal cases, two on Justice of the Peace court appeals. Charges against Steven R. Johnson for possession of a controlled substance and drug paraphernalia, and against Joseph E. Brown for possession of marijuana were dismissed in circuit court since both are presently serving time in the county jail under sentences imposed by a justice of the peace. The court also dismissed charges against Lucile Netto for firing a gun within city limits and fined Charles Williams $450 plus court costs for possession of marijuana after his attorney entered a guilty plea.

BSL Woman Jailed For Child-Beating

A Bay St. Louis woman has been jailed and charged with assault and battery with intent to kill for injuries she inflicted on her two-year-old child.

Hancock County Sheriff Ladner arrested Francis Bridgewater, 23, Jan. 9 following investigation of a Jan. 3 incident in which the woman allegedly struck the child repeatedly on the head with a soft drink bottle as it lay on the floor.

Ladner was called into the investigation by Jefferson Parish, La. authorities after Charity Hospital doctors reported that the child had been abused. The infant, Chermaine Bridgewater, had been taken to the New Orleans hospital by her mother and her common law husband, James Powell, Jr., 29 on Jan. 4.

Doctors at Charity diagnosed the child as being in poor condition suffering from multiple skull fractures and severe burns about the body, including in the mouth and vagina.

The Bridgewater woman and Powell live at 135 Sycamore St., Bay St. Louis with three other small children, one a twin of Chermaine. The mother is being held at the county jail under $5,000 bond.

The injured child is scheduled for surgery, Charity physicians stated.

Port & Harbor Eyed For Railroad Car Repair Operation

Negotiations are underway at the Hancock County Port and Harbor for a possible railroad car repair enterprise, utilizing a section of the Port Blenville Shortline track, it was revealed at a Thursday meeting.

Charles Hill, president of Jackson Landing Shipyard, Inc., situated at the industrial park, introduced Edward Dennis and Charles Calhoun, representing Jackson Landing Fabricators, Inc., of Montgomery, Ala. Hill said the company is interested in a six month option on a section of railroad track in the industrial park suitable for storing some 40 railroad pullman cars.

The Montgomery concern was in a position to conclude negotiations within the next ten days with two other companies for the repair of 40 cars under one contract and 100 cars under another. The first 40 railroad cars could be delivered to Hancock county 30 days after contract signing and repair operations would begin immediately thereafter, Hill stated.

The operation would in no way interfere with Coastal Millwork or any other industry in the park, Hill assured commissioners, and the county could realize some $30 to $40 per car revenue from the enterprise. During the six month trial period, the company would hire about 30 workmen for ironwork, blasting and painting.

The most feasible section of track for the operation has not yet been determined, Hill said.

In other business, the commissioners elected the following officers: Dr. John Levens, president; J.D. McCullough, vice-president; Aubin "Fritz" Harris, treasurer. James DeBlanc was named secretary succeeding Bert Courge who resigned some months ago when he was transferred out of state.

Bay Renewal Plan Topic Of Meeting

The formulation of a downtown renewal plan for Bay St. Louis will be discussed at an open meeting January 23 at 7 p.m. in the Coast Electric meeting room.

Victor Frankiewicz, Jr., a student in city planning at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, has called the meeting in an effort to motivate public awareness of the need for long range planning in municipal growth.

Growth as exemplified in Bay St. Louis has been good for the city, Frankiewicz said, by providing job opportunities and increasing the city's tax revenue. However, an uncontrolled pattern of growth can lead to inefficient public services, unnecessarily large expenditures of public funds and eventually result in what is known as "sprawl".

Another detrimental side effect of rapid, uncontrolled growth is the loss of characteristics that are unique and appealing about a community, he noted.

A slide presentation on projected city planning will be presented at the meeting, which is open to those residents interested in the subject.

Schools To Get Security Patrol

A full time security guard will patrol city public schools soon by decision of Bay-Waveland Municipal Separate School trustees at a Monday night meeting.

Increasing incidents of burglaries at the system's four schools in past months causing mounting losses in money and equipment warrant a full time security patrol every night, Superintendent J.D. McCullough told trustees. The schools have been broken into repeatedly and numerous articles stolen including money, food and some $300 worth of football equipment.

McCullough was directed to submit cost and schedule figures at the next board meeting.

In other business a review of the schools' dress and hair codes was urged by trustee Robert Hamilton who said he felt that some members of the faculty and administration may be "spending more time on what the students are wearing and the length of their hair than they are in academic pursuits". Hamilton, with the board's concurrence, asked McCullough to request a code review by the student council and faculty advisors with recommendations or suggestions to be made some time in April. Any changes that might be adopted would become effective in the 1974-75 season.

A survey of fuel expenditures for school buses comparing the 1972-73 session with 1973-74 showed a 13 cents per gallon increase for gasoline over last year, and a four cents per gallon increase in the first three months of this year. Rising costs of fuel have contributed heavily to increased operational costs for the school system, McCullough pointed out.

Grand Jury Report Released

The Hancock County grand jury empaneled by Judge Leslie B. Grant released its findings Wednesday afternoon after three days of deliberations and examinations of the various county offices. The following is a complete text of their report:

To the Honorable Leslie B. Grant, circuit judge presiding:

We, the Grand Jury, having been duly empaneled, sworn and charged at the January 1974 Term, now beg leave to submit this our final report.

We have been in session for three (3) days, during which time we have examined 50 witnesses, considered 16 cases, and returned 14 indictments.

Hancock General Hospital. We found that generally the hospital is in good condition; that the administrator, Mrs. Mona Santiago, seemed to be cognizant of the discrepancies noted at the term of the last grand jury and that these conditions had either been corrected or will be corrected, according to a work plan. We did find several things which we feel should be corrected by the administrator, because the Grand Jury feels these are hazardous conditions: 1. Open Electrical control panels in the boiler room; and 2. Flammable liquids - gasoline in can, and paint stored in the boiler room.

County Home. We visited the Home for the Aged and found the premises well kept and that the patients seemed to be well cared for. We wish to commend Mrs. Fricke for the good job she is doing there. We would, however, like to point out the lack of sufficient wall outlets in the home. To eliminate the hazardous use of the excessive number of extension cords in the home, the Grand Jury recommends installing adequate electrical wall outlets according to the code.

Port and Harbor Commission. We wish to commend the Commission and the Board of Supervisors for their recent appointment of Mr. Wilson Webre to the position of Director of the Port and Harbor.

We visited the airport where we were given a presentation by Mr. Webre of the developments there, as well as the future prospects of the airport complex. While at the airport we inspected all the buildings and viewed the construction which is now underway extending the present runway.

We next visited Port Bienville where Mr. Webre again briefed the Grand Jury on developments now in place and on the future prospects for development and use of the Port.

The Grand Jury wishes to thank Mr. Webre for accompanying us on the tour. Jail and Youth Detention Center. We find the jail to be in good condition, considering its age. However, we recommend that a new refrigerator, stove and double sink be purchased for the kitchen.

We find the Youth Detention Center to be in excellent condition. However, it is the feeling of the Grand Jury that space is needed for additional cells.

Courthouse Inspection. We made an inspection of some of the offices of the courthouse and found them to be in satisfactory condition. We would like to commend the Board of Supervisors for advertising for bids for renovating the court room and the addition of central air conditioning the heating throughout the building.

We would like to thank Mr. John Rutherford, Chancery Clerk, for his presentation to the Grand Jury and commend him for his well kept office, and for his efforts in conducting the duties of his office.

We wish to thank Sylvan Ladner, Sheriff, and his deputies for their assistance to the Grand Jury in its inspections and commend him for his efforts for good law enforcement in the County.

We wish to especially commend Deputy Ronnie Peterson and his associates for their efforts in ridding Hancock County of narcotics abuse.

We wish to thank Albert Necaise, District Attorney, for his assistance during our deliberations.

And now, having fully completed our labors, we respectfully beg to stand finally discharged.

This the 16th day of January, A. D., 1974.

Respectfully submitted,
RUSSELL W. CHAPMAN

County School Board Saves The Day For Early Scholars

Hancock County schools opened doors 45 minutes later in the morning Monday after an agreement was worked out between city and county school officials last week.

Under Daylight Savings Time the earliest bus pickup in the county is now around 7:15 a.m. instead of 6:30 a.m.

County school board members made the decision to push back school openings after receiving numerous complaints from parents last week that their children were being forced to wait for buses in complete darkness as a result of the early switch to DST.

Hancock County school board president Horace Davis said that the board had contemplated changing the school openings from the very beginning, but had run into some problems with coordinating their schedule with the city school schedule. Both schools have students that attend the Vocational Training Center at Stennis Field which until this week began classes at 9 a.m.

County School Board Saves The Day For Early Scholars

Under agreement worked out between the county, city school superintendent Joe McCulloch, and Vo-Tech director James Sones, the vocational center will delay beginning classes until 9:15 a.m.

Davis said last week that he had received a call from state Rep. Earl "Buck" Ladner, expressing concern over the busing situation and urging the board to take appropriate action as soon as possible.

Parents praised the quick action taken by the board.

Mrs. Doris Richards, who last week was one of a group of parents concerned over the bus pickups, said Wednesday that everyone she talked with seemed satisfied with things now.

"It's already breaking day even at the earliest pickups now I believe," she said. "I'm just real glad that we didn't have to take things any further."

ANNOUNCES FOR Mayor City Of Waveland

FEB. 9, 1974

Together We Can Get Better Things For Waveland

In my opinion, Waveland needs a full-time mayor. The past few years has shown this clearly.

Waveland needs a full-time mayor: To Supervise Street and Ditch work and TO SEE THAT THE JOB GETS DONE.

To Supervise the Water System and the Sewer System to be. With 25 years experience in construction, I intend to see that the sewer collection system and the sewer treatment plant are installed to give the people of Waveland a real service - see that they don't get short changed in any way.

I do not feel that it is good business to depend on the foremen entirely to run these departments. Waveland needs a full-time mayor who will personally inspect the work and see that the job gets done. It is not enough to sit back and wait for complaints - the Mayor needs to know what is happening from his own personal observation and see that appropriate action is taken.

This takes a full-time Mayor and that I pledge to be.

A few months ago the acting mayor turned in his resignation as Alderman of Ward One on the basis that the alderman duties interfered with his private business. The resignation was withdrawn shortly thereafter, but I feel that it is obvious evidence that he cannot be expected to work as a full-time mayor for Waveland.

I pledge you full-time services as Mayor when I am elected.

ELECT MELVIN "MEL" VILLERE Mayor Of Waveland

Grand Jury Returns 14 Indictments

The January term of the Hancock County grand jury returned an indictment for assault and battery with intent to kill against Francis Bridgewater of 135 Sycamore, Bay St. Louis, Wednesday after witnesses charged that Mrs. Bridgewater had beat her two-year-old child Chermaine with a bottle and inflicted multiple cigarette burns over her body.

The indictment states that the child suffered a fractured skull as a result of being beaten about the head with a root beer bottle and had burns inside her mouth and gums as well as other parts of her body.

The grand jury also returned indictments against Billy Joe McLaughlin of New Orleans and John Emilio Spencer (alias Johnny Garcia) of Kiln, Miss. for three counts of uttering forgery. The indictment states that McLaughlin and Spencer forged signatures on American Express-Traveler's checks, which were passed to the Majik Market of Kiln on Sept. 2, 1973 and to the Kiln Package Store on Dec. 3 of last year.

McLaughlin was named in another indictment along with Wilbur Joseph Haas of Kiln, Miss. for receiving stolen property. The indictment states that McLaughlin and Haas had in their possession a 1968 oldsmobile automobile belonging to Stephen's Chevrolet Co., Inc. of New Orleans and a Ford pickup truck which was the personal property of Robert Saintine of New Orleans.

Robert Gann Smith and Terri Lynne Hensley, both of Clermont Harbor, were indicted for possession of a controlled substance, namely 56 capsules containing the drug Placidyl, on or about Jan. 12 of this year.

Two counts of false pretense were returned against Emily J. Getman of Pass Christian for passing bad checks to the Acme Refrigeration Supplies, Inc. of Bay St. Louis on July 19, 1972 and on July 25, 1972. Indictments against other individuals were not released immediately because they were either not in custody or not under an appearance bond.

Reflections of the past

BLESSING OF THE BELLS for Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church in Bay St. Louis was an auspicious occasion which drew a large, gala crowd of townspeople to witness the ceremony, held on a misty Sunday morning. Monsignor John Prendergast, rector of the church in 1969 when this picture was taken, is believed to be the prelate officiating. St. Joseph's Academy can be seen extreme left and contributor of the picture, Miss Carmelita Spornio, is at extreme right with her sister. (Readers are urged to submit photos for use in Reflections. All pictures will be returned unharmed at the Echo office. Use of all photos is left to the discretion of the editor.)

Members of the Bay St. Louis City Council have expressed a desire for local citizens to become better informed of the affairs of their community and the workings of their city government.

Questions concerning the tax structure or assessments, city operating costs, areas of income and disbursement of funds and any other of a reasonable nature will be answered by council members in a new series starting this week in the Echo.

In cooperation with the city council, the Echo will publish each week a questionnaire which can be clipped out and mailed or brought in person to City Hall. Questions submitted will be answered the following week and as much information as possible on the subject will be supplied by whichever council member appropriate. While the council would prefer that the correspondent identify himself, names are not necessary and any question of a reasonable nature will be answered.

Readers are reminded that questionnaires must be submitted to City Hall, not the Echo.

QUESTION
"After Hurricane Camille, $134,000 was raised and sent to you for distribution to hurricane victims which you appropriated to buy city trucks but no final accounting has ever been published of the account."

account."

ANSWER

The above letter was addressed to me by a citizen of our community. The reference is to the "We Care Funds" contributed by many people throughout the United States for the relief of hurricane (Camille) affected communities along the Mississippi Gulf Coast. Actual amount of money received by Bay St. Louis amounted to $134,000 and interest earned on that amount from its receipt until the date of final disbursement of the fund was $7,478.74, or a total of $141,978.74 to be accounted for.

Recorded in the minutes of the City Council (M.B. 11, pgs 99-101, dated 9-15-69) is a copy of the contract entered into between the We Care Committee and the City of Bay St. Louis. That part of the contract relating to an accounting for the funds reads as follows: "The municipality shall render to the Committee an accounting of the status and use of said 'We Care' funds and within a reasonable time after all funds have been expended by the municipality."

In the contract is the law firm of Watkins, Pyle, Ludlam, Winter and Stennis, Jackson, Mississippi. There is nowhere in the contract any provision saying that a public accounting of the use of the money was to be made.

On March 19, 1971, a letter was addressed to Mr. Warren V. Ludlam, Jr. of the above mentioned law firm. The letter follows:

"In compliance with your letter of March 8, 1971, concerning the 'We Care' fund, we are attaching an accounting for the funds received by us. As of February 28, 1971, we had a balance of $2,139.21 remaining in the fund. This balance has been earmarked for the purchase of a 1-1/2 ton trash pickup truck."

A photostatic copy of the final accounting is being mailed to the gentleman making this inquiry. Should anyone be interested in receiving a copy please contact the mayor's office and a detailed statement will be submitted.

I would like to state that the firm of Moore & Powell, Certified Public Accountants, examined the handling of the "We Care" fund during the regular course of the city's yearly audits. Their reports are open for public inspection. I might also add that the records at city hall show that prior notice was given to the law firm mentioned in a previous paragraph of this letter of the intent for which the money was to be spent. A copy of that letter dated February 14, 1970, is on file in my office.

Very sincerely,
Warren Carver, Mayor.

Pound Improvements Donated

Bay-Waveland Humane Society, Inc., met Tuesday evening at Ramada Inn, Waveland, with Mrs. Marie Hoefeld, president, conducting the business session. It was noted that Betty Crocker coupons are being collected by the Society and anyone who has coupons to donate is asked to mail them to P.O. Box 471, Waveland.

Mrs. Clifford Backlund, publicity chairman, informed the group that State Representative Earl Ladner had sent the Society a copy of the second of 10 bills to be presented to the 1974 session of the Legislature.

Thanks were expressed to Merlin Markel of Markel Industries, Inc., Waveland, for his gift of wire and fence posts which will be used for the exercise and sanitary yard at the Waveland pound. Additional wire, posts and gates are needed, Mrs. Backlund added, and anyone having these items to donate can call 467-3739 or 7-9494 and they will be picked up.

Plans were formulated for observance of the Society's first anniversary at the February 12 meeting.

Bid Rejected For Hospital Property

Hancock General Hospital trustees opened bids Tuesday night for consumable items for the year but held all in abeyance pending further consideration.

In an unrelated matter, three bids submitted for the purchase of hospital property on Carroll Ave. and approved by the Hancock board of supervisors, were rejected. A motion was passed to readvertise the property for sale.

After a lengthy conference with two members of the hospital medical staff, trustees passed a unanimous motion to investigate acquisition of a computer analyzed ECG system for instant cardio analysis.

NEWSPAPER
Association-Founded 1885

A new year, a new look

Starting with the new year, readers will notice some innovations in the Echo. All of the long-standing features will continue, but some new and good things will be added. In short, you'll get more for your money.

With the advent of a new year it's time to take stock and clean house, as it were. It's a good time to take a hard, objective look at what we have, where we've been and think about where we want to go.

The Echo has for 82 years been regarded as the official county newspaper—the eyes and voice of the community. It's a big responsibility. The editorial policy of the paper has always been one of as complete in-depth coverage as possible of happenings and events and THE PEOPLE of Hancock County.

We intend to preserve that policy and adhere to the tradition set by the paper's founder.

However, beginning this year, the Echo will expand its services by incorporating the two-year-old Pass Christian-Long Beach bureau edition within the Bay edition. In that way our many readers outside the state and in foreign countries as well as at home will be afforded total Gulf Coast coverage from Waveland to Gulfport.

We can no longer isolate ourselves into separate communities nor remain independent of each other. What's happening in Pass Christian, Long Beach and dependent directly affects Waveland, the Bay and Hancock County. As an example the proposed duPont plant in Harrison county will have a definite impact on Hancock county economy. Possible developments at the NASA test site in Hancock county and the Port and Harbor will surely influence those in the Pass and Long Beach. Legislative action in Jackson can change all our lives. It's our business to tell you about it. What you do about it is your business.

Most important of all is the fact that we're a people paper. We're just as concerned with the results of an eighth grade basketball game or why a particular dairyman is chosen Farmer of the Year as we are with the governor's newest multi-million dollar program.

And that's why we're expanding. To better serve more people.

Printhe Facial Dental and Medical Care means that when a veteran submits an application for dental treatment he can be authorized treatment on a one-time completion basis without disability rating action. This application must be received by the Veterans Administration Center within one year from the date of his discharge. Printhe facial will not involve the replacing of missing teeth, as a matter of course. However if facts are submitted with the application providing the date and place of the missing teeth it will assist the V.A. in determining whether they will replace the teeth. Be sure and make the appointment before you have been out of the service one year or it will be too late.

To obtain the printhe facial medical treatment a veteran must have served six months or more on active duty and must have submitted the application for Outpatient Treatment (VA Form 10-7079) within six months of discharge from service. Treatment will then be given while the claim for a service connected disability is pending. Quite frequently, veterans or their dependents tell me that "they" told them that they were entitled to a specific benefit. I don't know who "they" are, but the information is frequently in error. To be eligible for Domiciliary Care, or going to the VA Home to live, the person must have been a veteran of a wartime period or have service after Jan. 31, 1955 or have a service connected disability. A former service person with peace-time service only is not entitled to domiciliary care even though he is entitled to hospitalization, under certain conditions. Neither is a former service man entitled to a pension because he reached the age of 65 years of age or crossed the international date line. Eligibility for a pension is obtained by being in service during a war time period.

If a person drawing a VA pension or compensation desires to have his check sent to his bank, all that is required is for him to write a letter to the VA and give them the name of the bank and his account number.

The checks that are presently being received from the VA by persons drawing a pension are not a mistake made by the VA. These checks are retroactive payments for incomes that did not reach the amount you stated you expected to receive on last year's income questionnaire, or it is payment for the amount of unusual medical expenses you had that reduced your 1973 income. The money can be spent without fear of being required to pay it back.

BUYLINES FOR PILLOWS
Remember many stores include pillows in their reduced prices for January white sales. Each person has a preference for a certain thickness and amount of resiliency in a pillow. There is a pillow available for every preference and for different budgets. It is essential to read labels: "high" and "low" indicate thickness; "soft," "medium," and "firm" indicate resiliency; "standard," "queen," and "king" indicate the length.

Care instructions are often on the labels. Some man-made fiberfills are washable without much possibility of matting, whereas others must be laundered carefully. If instructions are not given with the pillow, the results of washing may or may not be satisfactory.

When the ticking can be removed for separate laundering, the pillow filling will not need to be washed as frequently. Vinyl pillow protectors can be used where problems are anticipated. Fabric pillow protectors can be purchased to keep the ticking from soiling.

"Crushed" chicken and turkey feathers are artificially curled and cannot be washed, but it is wise to place the pillow in a separate pillowcase and baste the open end loosely. Add towels to balance the load if only one pillow is washed. Use warm water and a regular wash cycle. Turn pillows over half way through washing. Dry in the automatic dryer on low heat for about 1 1/2 hours. Thorough drying is important to prevent a musty odor of mildew.

Foam rubber should be washed hand, as it is fragile when wet. To extract the water, place the pillow in a loose pillowcase, pin the ends together and spin. Then dry at room temperature—never in the dryer (danger of fire) or the sun (deteriorates the rubber).

The ticking on a pillow should be tightly woven for durability. Down and feather pillows need tightly woven ticking to prevent the feathers from working through. Durable press ticking with a stain-release finish is available.

To test pillows for resiliency, press with the hand and watch for the rate of recovery. The amount of feathers or down in pillows can be compared by shaking from one end and then noting how much ticking is left at the top. The weight of man-made fiberfill should be noted on the attached label. Twenty ounces or more is a satisfactory amount.

AUTOMATIC DRYER TIPS
You have been told to use your clothes dryer only when you have a load of clothes to save electricity. This is good advice, but don't overdo it! Too many clothes in the dryer causes them to dry unevenly or takes longer than necessary.

Overloading often results in complete drying of articles near the outside of the drum, while items near the center may still be quite damp.

A crowded dryer also causes unnecessary wrinkling, especially in permanent press articles.

Dear Editor:
Save gas and the fishing industry and help to save everything in general. Some years ago President Roosevelt had put into law the bill which gave the government the power to do away with livestock to bring the prices up on cattle, hogs and sheep. That worked fine. Then they started the program not to plant so many things like cotton, corn, wheat and many other things and that worked fine.

Now that things have gotten into such bad shape for the fishermen, some are on the verge of losing everything they have. All but the will to work. The fisherman is a man who braves the freezing weather, storms and everything else that may come along. They don't have central heat and air. All they have is a bunk to get into after about ten to fourteen hours of hard work per day.

So why not pay them not to fish or shrimp and oysters?

So why not pay them not to fish or shrimp or to dredge oysters for a three year trial so the fish, shrimp and oysters can come back. If something or some one doesn't do something very soon, it will be too late. Just like many other things, we take the fishing industry for granted. It is a very large business.

I think if the federal government and the states got together and started this program they would save the fishing industry.

SEED

If you are one of those who saved cotton or soybean planting seed, run a germination test on them to make sure they are fit for planting. If they are not, your best bet would be to sell and buy your seed.

Your seed should also be processed before planting. Having seed cleaned early will help avoid a possible tight schedule at planting time.

If you are planning to buy seed, book your needs today. Cotton planting seed will be in short supply and some seed companies have already sold out their supply of planting seed for 1974.

Soybean seed stored in metal bins should be aerated periodically on cool, dry days to keep moisture accumulation and migration to a minimum and keep the seed cool. This will help maintain seed quality.

NEW SOYBEAN VARIETY
Tracy is the latest soybean variety developed by Dr. E. E. Hartwig, USDA soybean breeder at Stoneville. In a five-year study at Stoneville, the variety has averaged a six percent higher yield than Lee 68.

Tracy has a high tolerance to 2,4-DB, dense foliage, a high level of protein and high resistance to phytophthora rot. Only a moderate supply of seed will be available from the Mississippi Foundation Seed Stocks this year.

Growers who plan to plant Tracy this year should not use the chemical Sencor due to the variety's sensitivity to the chemical.

Legislative Report

by EARL "BUCK" LADNER
STATE REPRESENTATIVE
HANCOCK COUNTY

The 1974 Legislative Session opened at 12 noon, Tuesday, January 8. This year's session will last 90 days.

In the opening hour two new members were sworn in — Representative Lynn Haven in the House of Representatives who will replace Representative C. L. Bullock, newly-elected Mayor of Gulfport and in the Senate, Senator John Corlew of Pascagoula who will replace Senator Ken Robertson.

House Speaker John Junkin has undergone surgery for an intestinal ailment and was not present for the opening day of the 1974 session. Speaker Junkin named Representative Edgar Stephens of New Albany to fill in for him on a temporary basis. He named Representative Stephens for a three-day period that did not require House confirmation and a five-day period that did. The House ratified the debate appointment without dissent or debate.

A petition with a majority of votes (needed for the post of Speaker Pro-Tem) was sent to Speaker Junkin in support of Representative C. B. "Buddy" Newman in an effort to head off a vicious floor fight.

Two other names being mentioned as possible candidates for Speaker Pro-Tem are George Payne-Cossar of Charleston and George Rogers of Vicksburg.

As stated in my campaign of 1971 I would publish my attendance record. In 1972 I was present and voting 119 days out of the 120 day session. In 1973 I was present and voting 89 days out of the 90 day session.

On Saturday, January 26, at 10 a.m. I will be at Scatfield's Wheel Inn Restaurant to meet with the public. Also present will be Senator Martin Smith.

Washington Report

By: Rep. Trent Lott

FROM THE HOME FRONT

Veterans in Congress say it happens every year at this time. Lawmakers go home for the holidays and return to Washington with admonitions of their constituents still ringing in their ears.

It was no different with this legislator, who spent the Christmas holidays in South Mississippi and listened to the views of concerned citizens throughout the Fifth Congressional District. And you can bet they had ideas on several things.

Above all else, South Mississippians seemed concerned with the energy problems and the economy crisis. Prices are out of sight and service stations are running out of gas.

A quick check with some of my colleagues here in the Congress confirmed my suspicion that people everywhere are talking about the same problems. Energy and the economy are issues that have reached into even the most obscure sections of the United States.

With this kind of response from the grass-roots level of America, it would seem that these are the issues we will be talking about when Congress reconvenes on January 21. In fact, my guess would be that the energy situation will dominate the Congressional calendar in the opening days of this session.

You will remember that we adjourned two days before Christmas without giving final approval to an energy bill. The House had one version, the Senate another, with neither body willing to compromise.

Proposals to establish a Federal Energy Administration, to accelerate energy research and development programs, to deregulate new natural gas prices, to speed up the siting of electric power plants, to regulate strip mining, and to open up naval petroleum reserves, among others, all fell by the wayside in December. The same proposals, however, will still be starting at us when we go back in session later this month.

In that connection, we will probably be moving this year toward some action on the idea of superports. Deep water ports, without question, would be one of the solutions to this nation's mounting energy crisis.

One proposed port, planned for the coastal waters near the Alabama-Mississippi line, would help solve some of our energy problems. It could also be a terrific shot in the arm to the economy of Mississippi.

Congress studied the feasibility of superports last year and, at one time, conducted a series of hearings in an effort to learn more about superports. Now that the preliminary investigation is nearing completion, it is high time we take action on the idea of deep water ports.

Then, too, there is the question of the economy. Those of us in Mississippi have been saying for years that we were heading toward economic disaster, but it now appears that the idea has caught on in other parts of the nation.

People everywhere are fed up with soaring prices, but that is the price you pay when you spend money you never had in the first place. Now that all of us are beginning to feel the pinch, perhaps we can get something done about it.

All in all, it was a productive Christmas holiday for those of us in Congress. It is time now to compare notes and act in the best interests of the people.

Annual reports were given at the January 2 meeting of Hancock General Hospital Women's Auxiliary by committee chairmen which will be included in the annual report.

Mrs. Amanda Sylvester, Auxiliary president will present to the Hospital's board of trustees later in the month.

A report from Mrs. John Schott, director of Volunteer Services, showed that approximately 9000 hours of service were given by Pink Ladies during the year and Mrs. Eva Duke, Candy Strippers' Advisor, noted an additional 1000 hours of time were given by Candy Strippers in 1973. Gift Shop chairman, Mrs. Elda Duke, reported a $500 profit on sales for 1973. Since its opening in 1971, she added, the Gift Shop has shown a profit of $1,372.49.

Mrs. Duke and Mrs. Maurice

George made tray favors for patients on special holidays and also put flowers in the hospital dining room at various times.

Mrs. Fred Fisher, hospital chairman, gave a report on the membership coffee given in her home in March. A fashion show and tea in September given by her committee members resulted in a $480 profit for the Auxiliary. The group also hosted a graduation party in November for the licensed practical nursing class. Memorial chairman, Mrs. Cora Coe, noted an increase of $233 in the Memorial funds during the year with 29 names being added to the Book of Memories.

Mrs. George, sewing chairman, reported making curtains for the hospital nursery and sewing new and mending old items for the operating room. T.V. rentals showed a profit for the year. Mrs. Joseph L. Marochino and Mrs. Harry Benjamin, T.V. co-committee chairmen noted.

Mrs. Clarence Evans, chairman of a newly established membership and awards committee, announced there were 65 members on the roster and the following had been recognized at the awards presentation held in December:

Mrs. Eva Duke received a 100-hour pin; Mrs. Margaret Lavoie, 200-hour guard; Mrs. Schott, 300-hour guard; Miss Alma Parker and Mrs. Coe 400-hour guards; Mrs. Sylvester, Mrs. A. S. Klein,

At the conclusion of the meeting Mrs. Mona Santiago, hospital administrator, conducted the installation ceremony for the following officers, all of whom were re-elected to serve during 1974: Mrs. Sylvester, president; Mrs. Schott, first vice president; Mrs. George, second vice president; Mrs. Shirley Madison, secretary; Mrs. Elda Duke, treasurer; and Mrs. Henry Chapman, corresponding secretary.

MRS. MILDRED NECAISE ACCEPTS DELIVERY OF HER NEW CAR FROM TURAN-LANE CHEVROLET SALESMAN FRITZ PERANICH.

Mrs. Necaise, a resident of Bay St. Louis was in need of a car. Her husband purchased a station wagon from Fritz Peranich and Turan-Lane Chevrolet recently and was well pleased with the very good deal. Mrs. Necaise visited her old friend Fritz Peranich at Turan-Lane Chevrolet and again she selected the car she wanted and got a very good deal. Veteran salesman Fritz Peranich has been selling cars in Bay St. Louis longer than anyone else and he tries always to treat his customers with the best deals he can give them because he wants to sell them the next time they need a new car. If you're in the market for a new used car or truck visit Turan-Lane Chevrolet and talk to salesman Fritz Peranich, he could save you money.

Methodist Women Answer Mission Call

United Methodist Women of Main St. United Methodist Church of Bay Saint-Louis will hold one of their most important annual observances this week — The Call to Prayer and Self-Denial. About 15 million women in 35,000 local units in all 50 states will join in the observance.

The Call, inspired by special mission needs, focuses on prayer, a deepened spiritual life and a guided mission study. Major events of the observance include an interpretation of the mission projects in the United States and abroad for which a special offering will be made. Each woman who takes part is asked to give for others by denying herself, and to cultivate through prayer a spiritual oneness with planners, mission workers and those served in church-related ministries.

The Call to Prayer and Self-Denial for women of the Main St. United Methodist church will be held at 4 p.m. Sunday, January 20 at Sanctuary of the Church.

The Women's Division of the United Methodist Board of Global Ministries sponsors the Call to Prayer and Self-Denial and has designated two aspects of the large United Methodist mission program to benefit from this year's special offering.

The Division says of the 1974 Mission aspects:

In the United States the offering will be used for "Ministries to Young Children and Teen-Agers." Through this Christian service the needs of many young lives will be met in community centers, schools, homes, career development programs, and day care. Health, meaning and purposefulness will be brought into some young lives, where special approaches will be used to reach neglected, mistreated or hostile children or teen-agers who have already formed patterns of antagonism and resentment.

Overseas, the offering will be directed toward "Ministries and Movements for Peace and Justice." Some of these ministries in Asia, Africa and Latin America are a part of the program of partner churches abroad. Some join hands with religious and secular movements not contained within familiar and formal structures of the church. These efforts may range from projects in an urban community to the struggles for national independence, to the international programs concerned for change and development. Last year the Call to Prayer and Self-Denial offerings of United Methodist Women totaled $680,144.

Miss Hogg Weds James D. Wilcox

The sanctuary of Christ Episcopal Church was the setting for the December 22 wedding of Dorothy Lane Hogg and James Delmer Wilcox. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Hogg of Silver Creek, Miss., and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Wilcox, Waveland.

The Rev. Charles R. Johnson, pastor, officiated at the double ring ceremony. Music was presented by Ogden LaFaye, organist, and Mrs. Josie Laudon, soloist.

Candlelight and greenery formed the background for the ceremony. A brass cross accented the altar with arrangements of white flowers and brass candelabra on either side. Palms flanking the altar completed the setting.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an original full length gown of candlelight peau de soie fashioned on Princess lines. Lace enhanced with pearls and crystal beads formed a standing collar. The long sleeves ended with bands of lace. The tapered skirt featured a chapel length train embroidered with lace. Her veil of candlelight illusion fell from a Juliet headpiece covered with lace encrusted with pearls. She carried a bouquet of white miniature carnations, stephanotis, baby's breath and fern.

Miss Billie Hogg, sister of the bride, was her only attendant. She wore a royal blue crepe gown featuring a wide midriff accented with lace trim and dome-shaped skirt which fell into soft folds from the waistline.

Attending the bridegroom as best man was his brother Karl Wilcox. Ushers were Wyatt Bowman, Lakeshore, and Norvin Penrose, Waveland.

Mrs. Hogg chose for her

Decorations Are 4-H Club Project

Waveland 4-H Club met Thursday afternoon at Waveland United Methodist Church fellowship hall. Beth Kilbert, vice president, gave the devotional and conducted the business session.

Mrs. Maurice George, leader, asked members to bring material and a pattern at the January 24 meeting for their sewing project.

During the afternoon the group made 20 table decorations for the senior citizens.

Katherine Fuch was appointed to give the devotional at the next meeting; Kathy Fayard will demonstrate sewing tools and Debra Asher will give a demonstration on making insect bottles.

The meeting closed with reading of the 4-H creed.

daughter's wedding a beige crepe knit with gold trimmed neckline and sleeves.

The mother of the bridegroom wore a royal blue suit of imported knit. Both mothers wore miniature carnation corsages.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in Virginia Hall.

Miss Mary Weaver presided at the bride's register table. The bride's table, overlaid with a linen cloth, held a three-tiered cake flanked by silver candelabra trimmed with arrangements of white flowers.

Tea girls were Misses Eileen and Celia Wilcox, sisters of the bridegroom. For traveling the bride chose a grey and white knit suit.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Wilcox entertained with a rehearsal dinner at their home on the eve of the wedding.

Underwater Creatures & A Magic Mirror Tell Small Fry 'I'm OK, You're OK'

by Renee Smith
Echo staff writer

The names Duso the Dolphin, Clarissa Clam and Soupy Turtle may not mean much to most people but to Mrs. Catherine McDonald's first graders at Pass Christian Elementary School these sea creatures represent a fun way to develop understanding of ones self and others.

In fact Duso the Dolphin gets his name from the phrase "developing understanding of self and others".

Duso and his fellow sea creatures are part of the drug education program in the Pass

Christian School District which includes the first through the fourth grades. Mrs. Sheila Russell, drug education specialist for the district, said specialists have found that teaching children about drugs directly is more likely to raise the incidence of drug abuse because children become curious about the drugs and their effects.

Mrs. Russell added that by helping the children to develop an understanding of themselves and others the use of drugs is demphasized. Specialists have found that people who are happy with and think well of themselves tend not to abuse themselves physically or mentally, she explained.

This program enables the child to discover that "it is OK to have feelings and that feelings are important," Mrs. Russell stated. She added that if a person can feel important he will not have to escape with drugs.

"We are trying to help the children clarify their values and we are not imposing our values on them," Mrs. Russell said.

The important thing is that "they know what they value," she stated.

Mrs. McDonald said each lesson in the program is planned with a value behind it. She added that the program consist of eight units which include:

1. Understanding and accepting one's self.
2. Understanding feelings.
3. Understanding others.
4. Understanding independence.
5. Understanding goals and purposeful behavior.
6. Understanding mastery, competence and resourcefulness.
7. Understanding emotional maturity.
8. Understanding choices and consequences.

A story which presents a problem situation goes with each of the eight units. Besides the story there is puppet activity and role playing which the children participate in. Each of these different activities is related to the value being studied.

"What we are driving at is understanding ourselves and developing a self ego. By doing this we can find out how we are a part of society," Mrs. McDonald explained. This process brings about feelings of security and importance, she added.

Programs such as this enable the children to realize that they are important to society and it teaches them how to be contributing members of society, she said.

She stated that the program has been especially valuable to the children who are slow learners because it makes them feel important, too.

The program consist of tapes with songs and puppets such as Duso the Dolphin who presents and tells the stories and who leads in the singing. There are also large colored pictures with each story.

For example there is the story of "The Red and White Blue Bird".

The red and white blue bird had a large yellow head and a red and white checkered body and wanted to be a blue bird because she felt everyone liked blue birds. Duso the Dolphin told the bird that she was red and white and not blue but the little checkered bird would not listen. She kept insisting that she was a blue bird.

However, when Duso told her she was probably the only red and white bird in the world this made the bird very happy.

The moral of this story is "I am the only me." Each story is followed by role playing and puppet activities, Mrs. McDonald stated.

The children also learn values from the Underwater Problem Solvers. These consist of Lefty Octopus who says that if everyone talks at the same time no one learns anything and Soupy Turtle who says that you must listen carefully to what others are saying as carefully as you would want them to listen to you. In addition to these there is Clarissa Clam who says "don't clam up." Clarissa encourages the children to speak up.

Mrs. McDonald said that the use of the underwater creatures is a good thing for the children in this area because they live by the water and can really relate to the puppets and characters.

"We hope if the children get enough of this program now that by the time they become teenagers they will be able to make the right decisions," she stated.

The day this reporter visited Mrs. McDonald's class the students were learning the value of "There is only one me in the world."

First Mrs. McDonald let each student look in a real mirror and she told them that the mirror showed only what they were like on the outside. Then she gave them a "magic mirror" and told them that this mirror allowed them to look deep into their inner self and see things that other people could not see. She then read the following poem:

"My magic mirror sees deep inside

All the things I sometimes hide.

Things I want to do or be

That are all a special part of me,

That other folks can never know

Unless I want to tell them so."

Mrs. McDonald then asked the students to look in the magic mirror and pretend that they were looking deep inside themselves and to tell the class something about themselves that others may not know.

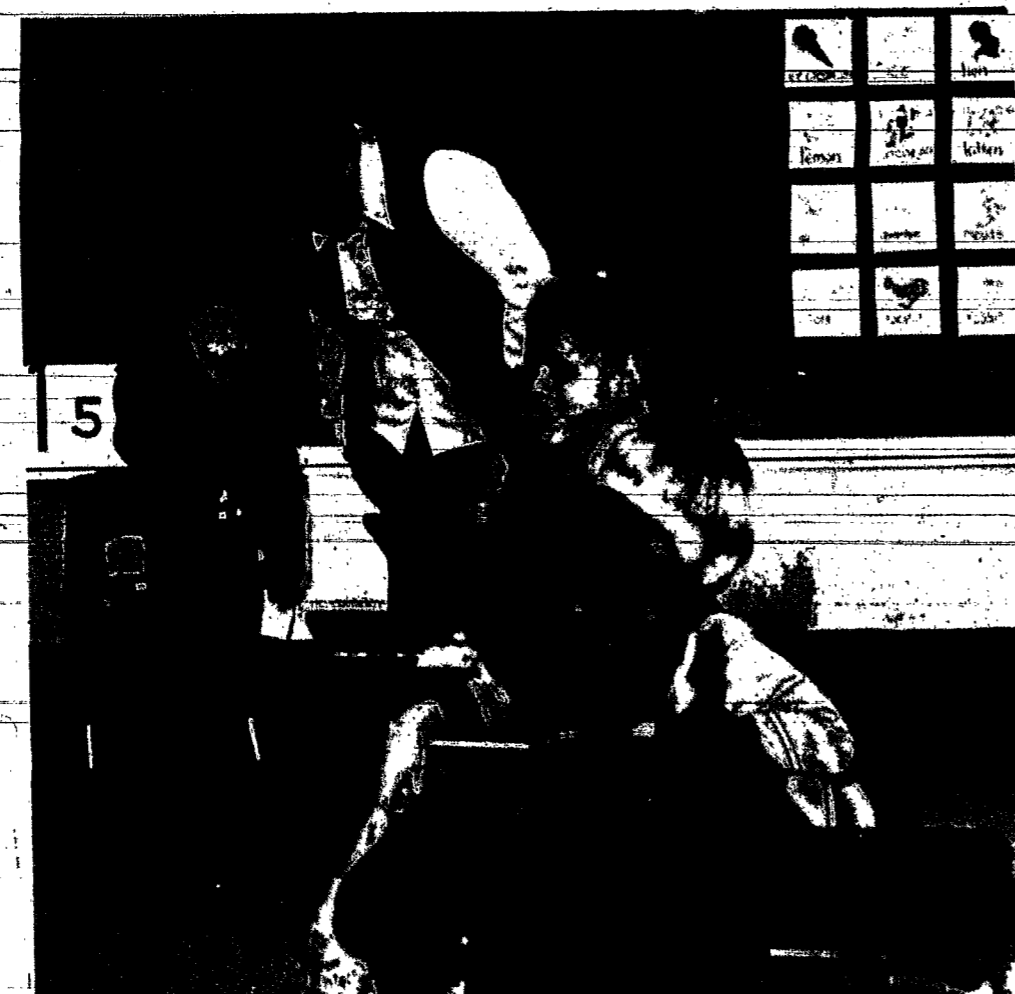

Deborah Rogers told the group that when she sees a lot of blood it makes her sick. Alex Guillotte said, "I love my Momma and Daddy." Another little boy said he hated flies while a little girl with pigtails whispered "I love roses."

In a real mirror one can only see his outside appearance but in a magic mirror he can see deep inside, Mrs. McDonald repeated.

An almost revolutionary approach to drug education, the program not only subliminally guides a child to a healthy and more secure self-image but immeasurably aids him in developing into a well-adjusted and happier adult.

DUSO THE DOLPHIN leads the singing.

THE MAGIC MIRROR lets us see deep inside ourselves.

THE REAL MIRROR shows only what we look like on the outside.

Another cold front reached Bay St. Louis the past weekend. Most hunters welcome a cold front. It's good for fishing and hunting. To go fishing and hunting is good for young squirts but hard on us old timers. Now that most hunting is over we can only look for the warmer days when fishing will be at its best.

As for fishing most streams are still dirty. Pearl River probably won't clear for a few weeks. The same thing holds good for most of its tributaries. Very few speckle trout are being caught anywhere.

A few red fish, sheephead and other salt water fish are being caught by the hardest. There is a little time left for hunting. Woodcock and snipe hunting goes until Feb. 17. Wild turkey hunting comes up in March and April.

Most sportsmen are turning their attention back to fishing.

Soft shell crabs and flounders have a couple of months to get into action. Let's hope both sports will be better this year. There were very few soft crabs last year. The reason we don't know.

Was a pleasure meeting Peter J. Casano, attorney-at-law who is from Pass Christian. Peter said he does quite a bit of fishing. Too busy to go right now, he said.

Mr. and Mrs. Idell Housley, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Grimsley and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Snider do quite a bit of fishing especially for green trout. They use live minnows. The lady-folks fish while the men are working. All good fishermen. They are from Piquette, Miss.

Terri Badon who is an expert bartender at Ramada Inn in Slidell enjoys playing tennis when not working.

Keeping up with hunting over in La. "J. Burton Angelle, director of the Louisiana Wildlife and Fisheries Commission, cautioned hunters that several hunting seasons are fast drawing to a close and there will be strict enforcement of the closed seasons.

"Angelle said that dove hunting in both the northern and southern zones closed at sunset Monday, January 14. He said there will be two more weekends of duck and coot hunting, with those seasons scheduled to close at sunset January 20.

"He said that the rail season closed Friday, January 11, at sunset."

Sorry to report the death of Owen Heltzmann last week. He had always been a real sportsman. His favorite sport was spearing flounders, and he was an expert at getting them. Sympathy is extended to his family.

Made another boo boo last week when I ran the picture of Mickey Demoran with a cut line of Edmond Fahey. It was Mickey alright. He said he did not mind being called Edmond but he said he can catch more fish than Edmond. They are good friends. I say if one doesn't make a mistake once in a while he never does anything.

One of the hunting seasons still open is the quail season. It is open until February 19. Quail also known as Bobwhite is probably the most popular gamebird even with those who do not hunt. These small chunky birds and their cheery whistles are familiar to all: fishermen fishing up bayous, golfers roaming the golf course or those just walking in the woods. Quail stay in a covey and can be kicked up or pointed by dogs. They fly at a fast speed and are not an easy target when on the wing.

There are a lot of quail hunters in Hancock County who take care of a couple of dogs the year round just to hunt a couple of months. Quail hunting is a real sport.

August, Raixet, Luke Elliott, John Ristolph and son made a duck hunt out to the marshes over the weekend. August said they killed a few ducks. Not as many as usual. The same hunters expect to go on a goose hunt before the season ends. All are expert hunters and get their share of birds.

Now is the time for woods fires. Be careful with matches. Be sure they are out before throwing them in the grass. You can help to protect our forests, birds and animals.

Oysters are as scarce as hens-teeth. Eating them is a rarity with their scarcity and the price one has to pay when they are available. Can't get them like we used to.

Give me the good old summer time. Winter is kinda rough to keep warm. Fishing is always better when the weather and water warms up.

Dick Mestayer and Willard Peterson enjoyed a dove hunt last week end. Haven't gotten the results as yet.

What has happened to snipe hunters? The season is open to Feb. 17. Snipe are a fast flying bird and can be found in swampy places and along the banks of bayous. They make for good eating, too.

According to reports it will be awhile before the tides start falling in the afternoons. Falling tides are best for green trout fishing, and now with day light saving time fishermen can get in another hour's fishing each day.

SPORTSMAN OF THE WEEK is Wayne Green, one of our younger anglers. Wayne does every kind of fishing possible and usually gets his share of fish.

High scorer for the Tigers Tuesday night against the Long Beach Bearcats was Arnold Fairconnetue with 16 points.

In the girls game high scorer for the Tigerettes was Sandra Lyons with 14 points.

Thursday night at Gulfport the St. John Eagles defeated the Tigers 67-62 in overtime. With just a couple of seconds left on the clock, Leo Romano made a field goal to tie the score, sending the game into overtime. High scorer for the

OLD NEWSPAPERS WELCOME

For many years the Brothers of St. Augustine's Seminary have collected old newspapers to sell for the benefit of the seminary.

We are grateful to our long and faithful clients, and we welcome new ones. The newspapers can be deposited in the paper shed on Ruella next to our truck garage. If you cannot easily locate it, just ask any of the Fathers, Novices, Brothers or Students to direct you.

Due to an increasing amount of work at the seminary and the shortage of Brothers, it is no longer possible for us to come to your homes to pick up the paper.

Again we would like to take this opportunity to thank all our friends for their interest and help in the past, and at the same time we hope to make new ones who would like to bring their old newspapers to our paper shed on Ruella at the seminary.

NUMBER ONE TEAM in the recent Annunciation School basketball tournament, Bay Junior High boys accept the trophy from Sr. Joan Lorraine, Annunciation principal.

Bay Hi Wins Tourney Trophy

Annunciation school sponsored its annual basketball tournament January 6 through 12. The Charles B. Murphy team breezed through the girls' division and Bay Jr. High squeaked through the boys' division to take the trophy away from a determined Christ Episcopal Five.

The semi-finals saw Bay Jr. High beat C. B. Murphy boys, 35-15. The game was close through three periods but Bay

Jr. High's power proved too much in the final quarter. Coast Episcopal was never behind a dogged St. Clare's team and walked away with 35-18 victory.

The girls of C. B. Murphy didn't meet a serious challenge from any of the teams in the tournament. Their ball handling and shooting was superb throughout and they overwhelmed the girls from Annunciation 52-14.

The Coast Episcopal boys put up a scrappy fight in a game that was tied 8 times in the second half, but dropped the game 37-35. The shooting of David Rhodes and the strong rebounding of Thompson kept a slim margin for Bay High. Hopes for both teams were alive in the 4th quarter with 46 seconds to go when M. Thompson scored a 17 foot jump shot to give Bay Jr. a 1 point lead. Coast Episcopal couldn't convert an attempt to take the lead. Then David Rhodes was fouled and calmly sunk both shots from the charity line to put away trophy on Bay Jr. High's shelf.

Hawks Down Rebels 84-79

Senior forward Roger Ladner pumped in a total of 36 points to guide the Hancock North Central Hawks out of a first half slump and on their way to a 84-79 victory over Harrison Central Saturday night. The win increased HNC's record to 12-7 for the year.

Also in double figures for the Hawks was senior guard Wayne Cuevas with 17 points, sophomore forward Billy Wayne Ladner, with 16 and sophomore forward Guy Necaise with 11. High scorer for the Rebels was David Mason with 28 points. Terry Haskin contributed to the effort with 19 points while David McCay added 18.

In the boys junior varsity game, Harrison Central broke away to an early lead controlling the game all the way before icing the game at 64-42. Greg Ladner was high point man for the junior Hawks with 13 points.

In the girls' varsity, the Hawkettes came away with a narrow victory over the Rebellettes winning 40-39. Kim Dedeaux led the Hawkettes with 19 points followed by Debra Randall with 12.

The Hawks will meet Pass Christian on the Pirates' home court tomorrow night at 7 p.m. followed by a home court battle with Stone County next Tuesday night. HNC will draw Stone Wednesday night again in the first round of the Bay St. Louis tournament Wednesday night Jan. 23.

Hawks Win Houston Trophy

By EDWARD FAVRE

The Houston, Texas Jaycees have notified the Hancock North Central Hawks Basketball Coach, Roland Ladner, that his team was voted the Houston Rockets Sportsmanship Trophy for their participation in the Jaycee Tournament in Houston Dec. 27-29.

A panel of sportswriters, fieldhouse directors, representatives of the Jaycees and the Houston Independent School District made the selection on the following basis:

Team performance, actions of team members and coaches during tournament games, and behavior and support of fans throughout the tournament.

Ladner was informed that the trophy was being engraved and will be sent to the school.

The trip to Houston was sponsored by the Parent-Players Club of Hancock North Central with funds from benefits sponsored by the Club.

SSC Splits Cage Action

By EDWARD FAVRE

St. Stanislaus lost a Gulf Coast Conference basketball game last Friday night at Lyman where they played the Harrison Central Red Rebels.

Harrison Central took a 2-point lead at the end of the first period and continued adding to it, building up a halftime score of 27-21. The Red Rebels outscored the Rock-A-Chaws 24-9 in the third period and went on to win the game by the score of 73-54.

Gerald Lynmel led Stanislaus scorers with 20 points, followed by Will Marlar with 13 points.

Heat is a valuable resource.

Don't waste it.

Almost every home heating system uses electricity for some purpose. So no matter what type of heat your home has, wise use of it can save money on your electric bill and help keep your fuel bill down. For instance, proper insulation greatly reduces heating costs in the winter, as well as air conditioning costs in the summer. A local contractor can advise you.

Checking your weather stripping and window caulking, closing off unused rooms, and letting the sunshine in during the day are also money-savers. Be sure your heating system is in good condition for safety and economy. And once you've found a good setting for your thermostat, leave it there. We want you to be comfortable this winter... without an uncomfortably high heating bill.
